

Kennedy Has Made Peace With Truman

HYANNIS, Port, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy made peace today with former President Harry S. Truman in a telephone call and announced he will visit Truman in Independence, Mo., this month.

Kennedy talked to President Truman by telephone and he was generous enough to say he would help us," Kennedy told a news conference.

"I hope before the end of August to visit President Truman myself at his library in Independence."

Hopes Labor Will Endorse Johnson Soon

By G. MILTON KELLY
HYANNIS, Port, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy hoped today for an early formal endorsement from organized labor for his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination with strong backing from labor unions. His choice of Johnson of Texas to run for the vice presidency, jolted many of his union backers. Some still are reported to be far from happy about it.

Kennedy scheduled meetings with Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, closely allied with the AFL-CIO and the powerful United Auto Workers Union. The senator also planned to confer with Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and John M. Bailey, chairman of the Connecticut Democratic Committee.

David J. McDonald, president of the 1,000,000-member United Steel Workers Union, said here Monday he expects labor will support Johnson. McDonald had not been in Johnson's corner prior to the convention.

The announced purpose of his visit was to discuss with Kennedy the plight of the steel industry, which the senator said is operating at only 53 per cent of capacity. Kennedy said Congress when it reconvenes Monday could help by passing housing and federal school construction legislation, and by acting to ease credit and reduce interest rates.

McDonald said 100,000 steelworkers are idle and 300,000 are working less than 40-hour weeks. Kennedy accused the Republican presidential nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, of a "lack of basic beliefs." His statement endorsed one released by his headquarters in the name of nine Midwestern Democratic governors and senators which asserted that Nixon "in the short span of 48 hours since his nomination has repudiated two key parts of the (Eisenhower) administration's program" — on defense spending and farm policy.

The statement cited Nixon's 14-point agreement with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, on the defense issue, and asserted that Nixon had said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "is not good enough for him."

The Democratic nominee accused Nixon of a betrayal of Benson's farm policies, which he said Nixon helped to write and defend, but now wants to disown.

Pea Picking Time in County

Harvesting was begun this week on some 250 acres of Monarch Black Eye peas planted in the Hope area this year. One of the first ones to get started was J. C. Harding of the DeAnn Community. He started some 30 pickers and said that he expects to have at least 10 days work for them before finishing more than 100 acres that he and his brother have planted.

The peas are picked, weighed and loaded into a truck with a specially built body that provides ventilation during transportation to the processing plant of Arkansas Frozen Food Company in Little Rock.

"This is the quickest crop and usually requires the least amount of work of any crop that I plant," said Mr. Harding.

Body Sought in Mississippi River

BLITHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Searchers continued hunting today for the body of Thomas Vincent, 21, of Blitheville, who drowned while trying to swim across Musgrave chute near here.

Vincent's death Sunday was the fourth Mississippi River drowning in northeast Arkansas in four days. Last Thursday Mrs. Wayne Shinn, her son Gary, 5, and Sam Fortner, 7, all of Osceola, drowned near Osceola. Young Fortner's body was recovered Sunday. Mrs. Shinn's body was recovered Thursday and the body of her son Friday.

Convict Is Sought for Murder

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—A former convict sought on a murder charge and the killing of a sheriff's deputy was the object of an intensive search today in east Tennessee.

Police are seeking Clarence Leon Ruby, 26, of near Knoxville, in the robbery-slaying of an Anderson County merchant and the killing of a Union County deputy sheriff. The merchant was slain July 7. The deputy was killed Monday.

Another man was shot to death and his father wounded critically in an exchange of gunfire with police searching for Ruby. Dan Cooper, 27, was killed and his father, Kaley Coper, 52, was wounded by Knox County officers who were hunting for Ruby with bloodhounds.

Knox County Sheriff E.B. Bowles said four of his deputies felled the Coopers after the latter opened fire at the officers with a rifle and shotgun. The sheriff said Kaley Cooper shot in the arm and chest had been charged with felonious assault with intent to murder.

Bowles said the Coopers, residents of the Heiskell community where Ruby lives, had ambushed his officers. Heiskell is about 15 miles southeast of here.

Authorities said Ruby gunned down Ben DeVault, Union County deputy sheriff, after he and a brother, Lloyd, spotted the fugitive on a rural road 20 miles to the east.

DeVault, 58, shot at Ruby in a truck which the latter commandeered from Fred Rutherford, a farmer. Ruby, armed with a pistol, felled the officer with a bullet in the head.

Ruby and another Knox County man, Billy McCoy, 22, have been charged with murder in the hold-up-slaying of Frank C. Keph, 61, last month. Officers said two gunmen took about $1,000 from Keith before felling him with a shotgun blast.

U. S. Rejects Red Proposal for Disarming

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A U.S. spokesman Monday night rejected a Soviet call for an all-U.N. summit party on disarmament as a "typically specious and frivolous maneuver."

But some diplomats at the U.N. still hoped it might bring President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev together at the conference table.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge brushed off the Soviet proposal at a news conference at the summer White House in Newport, R.I. Presumably he spoke with the President's authorization.

The Soviet proposal accompanied a Kremlin objection of the American proposal that the 82-member U.N. Disarmament Commission be called into session this month. Lodge said the Soviet reply showed the Soviets "really don't want disarmament."

"The United States made its proposal in good faith," Lodge declared, but the Soviet counter proposal amounts to "a cynical attempt to prevent progress."

Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov called for the summit disarmament meeting in a letter Monday to Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, chairman of the disarmament commission.

Receiving Padilla Nervo's call for a commission meeting Aug. 15, Morozov asserted that disarmament talks could only be successful if held at the proper level.

"The Soviet government believes that personal participation of the heads of government of member states of the United Nations in the discussion of the disarmament problem at the General Assembly would answer this purpose best of all," the Soviet letter said.

Diplomats at the U.N. were intrigued by the reversal of Khrushchev's stand after the abortive Paris conference that he would negotiate with the United States at the summit until Eisenhower left the White House.

Morozov asserted that the U.S. proposal for a disarmament commission session was inspired by "considerations connected with the internal situation in the United States."

It said the U.S. government wanted the meeting "to conceal its unwillingness to achieve an agreement on this question."

Bus Suit Goes to High Court

MEMPHIS, (AP)—A four-year-old bus desegregation suit against the city has been referred to the State Supreme Court to clear the way for action.

Three federal judges yesterday ordered the suit held in abeyance while the state's highest court decided this question:

Are street cars and buses the same under the meaning of a 1903 state law?

The judges asked the court to interpret the statute which orders segregated seating aboard "street cars." The judges pointed out that at the time was passed motor buses or coaches were unknown.

The Plaintiff, O. Z. Evers, boarded a city bus in 1956 and refused to sit in the rear. After being ordered to leave he filed a suit against the city and the transit company.

Nixon Charges Kennedy With 'Low' Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today accused Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic rival for the presidency, of following "the low road in the campaign" by discussing personalities instead of issues.

Kennedy at a news conference at Hyannis Port, Mass., Monday had charged Nixon with a "lack of basic beliefs" and a "betrayal" of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's farm policies which Nixon "now wants to disown."

Asked for comment on Kennedy's statements, the Republican presidential nominee replied: "Mr. Kennedy started on the low road in the campaign. He intends to keep on it," he added.

"I am not going to engage in personalities. Regardless of what he does I'm going to stay on the issues."

Nixon talked with newsmen a few minutes before his chartered plane left National Airport on the first leg of a strenuous campaign.

In obvious high spirits, he laid an impromptu news conference that he is not disturbed by individual polls which show he is running behind Kennedy.

Nixon said he has a high opinion of Kennedy and doubted that Kennedy wants to engage in personalities.

"But some people around him have egged him on," Nixon continued. "He has to satisfy extremists in his party."

Nixon said he doubts that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Kennedy's running mate, will engage in personalities during the campaign. He added that Johnson has considerably more experience than Kennedy.

The Republican nominee said he was starting what would be "the most intensive and I guess you can say also the most extensive campaign, ever conducted for the presidency."

He began the Western swing after aligning himself against any big spending measures Democrats might pass to win votes.

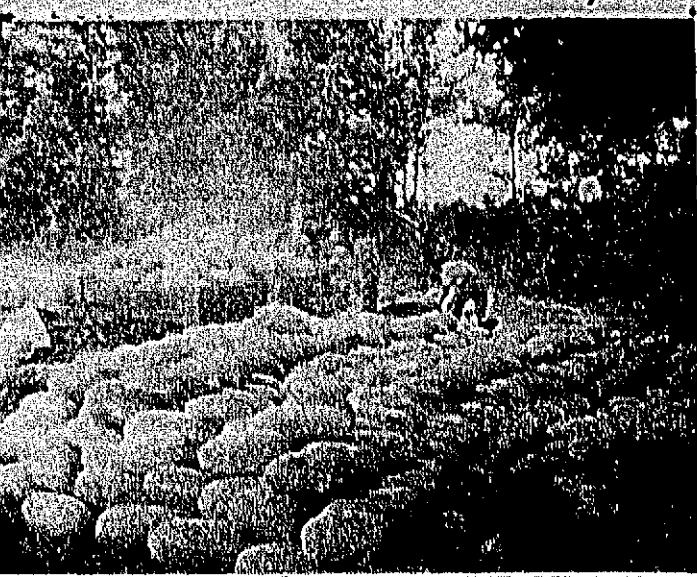

Nixon said President Eisenhower plans to veto any massive spending bills the Democratic-controlled Congress might vote for "purely political" reasons after it reconvenes next week. He said he agrees with Eisenhower on this.

Nixon and his wife scheduled an early takeoff for a five-day trip that will include a visit tonight to Nixon's hometown of Whittier, Calif., a traditional campaign stop and a two-day tour of Hawaii, the nation's newest state.

But the first stop will be to honor Mrs. Nixon. Her native

Signal Light Change Is Proposed

Hope City Directors last night heard a proposal from the Arkansas Highway Department to take out three signal lights on Highway 67 through the city in order to move traffic faster.

The Department recommended elimination of traffic lights at Hervey, Elm and Hazel Streets and that new signals be placed at Elm and Walnut.

Actually there was no action on the matter, however, directors felt that gradual elimination of the three lights would be better than removing them all at once. The proposal will be considered further.

Face on Poster Was Familiar

MEMPHIS, (AP)—The face on the wanted poster was a familiar one to the two policemen. It was the face of David Webb.

So they arrested Samuel A. Miller, 29, alias Webb, sought by the FBI since he escaped from Michigan State Penitentiary in June, 1959. Miller had been sentenced there for burglary.

The officers, C. D. Young and C. E. Forti, said they became friendly with the man they knew as Webb after meeting him at a restaurant where his wife worked.

7 District Races to Be Decided

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Seven district races — five for state senator, one for chancellor and one for prosecuting attorney — are still to be settled in the second Democratic primary on Aug. 9.

These involve 15 counties. In addition runoffs will be held in 17 counties for seats in the Arkansas House.

All statewide contests were settled in the first primary a week ago. So were two races for the United States House of Representatives. As a result of a 1959 change in the laws and the way Arkansas voted in the first primary, some counties won't have an election on Aug. 9.

Until this year races in which there were only two candidates weren't voted on until the second primary.

Now all contests are on the ballot in the first primary. That, of course, means the two-man races are settled in the first primary. Only those contests in which no one gets a majority among three or more candidates appear again on the second primary ballot.

State Capitol sources said no compilation was available on the number of counties which won't have a second election.

In some it may be that no countywide election will be held but that there will be township or municipal races to be decided.

California Bank Makes Apology

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A California bank has apologized for an implication that Arkansas lacks money to pay its retired teachers.

About six weeks ago, Mrs. Vera Price of Pocatamos cashed her teacher retirement check for $89.19 while visiting her daughter and son-in-law at Anaheim, Calif.

The check bounced back to Arkansas, marked "insufficient funds." Mrs. Price's son-in-law, S. M. Collett, had to make it good.

This made State Treasurer J. Vance Clayton bristle. He announced emphatically that the Arkansas Teachers Retirement Fund had 35 million dollars in it, plus an operating fund of more than $700,000.

Clayton said today that the matter has been cleared up. An official of the Bank of America at Anaheim wrote him that the misunderstanding resulted from an "office error." The official apologized, and invited Clayton to visit the bank and receive a personal apology.

The son-in-law also got an apology. Clayton said.

When the check bounced, Clayton went to a Little Rock bank and obtained a cashier's check which he sent to Mrs. Price.

U. N. to Stay Out of Congo Tribal Warfare

By NADREW BOROWIEC

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The U. N. Command took a hands-off attitude today toward bloody tribal warfare reported in the Congo's Kasai province.

The U.N. stressed that the Security Council had sent in the International force so Belgian soldiers could withdraw and that tribal disturbances are an internal matter for the Congo government and its army, "not a mandate of the U. N. forces."

Belgian sources consider that the disorganized 25,000-man Congolese army, which militated against its white Belgian officers early in July, is totally incapable of controlling the warring tribesmen.

Belgian officials said the warfare — between the traditionally hostile Lulua and Baluba tribes in Kasai, east of Leopoldville — was the worst flare-up in the history of the two tribes.

Unconfirmed reports said hundreds had been killed in the battling with bows and arrows, clubs and torches. Baluba tribesmen were reported in flight, some to adjoining Katanga province, which has proclaimed its independence of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central government.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld warned Congolese leaders Monday night that any false move on their part could plunge the Congo into new turmoil.

He called on the infant government to follow the course set by the United Nations — "always free of all influence of groups, parties or ideology."

Hope Plays Fort Smith Team

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Eight of Arkansas' top American Legion baseball teams took the state title in tournament action which starts today.

The winner of the meet gets the right to represent Arkansas in the Region 4 tournament at Newport Ark. 18-23.

The regional tournament will bring together state winners from Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Arkansas. In the Walnut Ridge tournament, which lasts through Sunday, teams from Fort Smith, Helena and Conway shape up as the favorites. But Little Rock, Corning, Pine Bluff, Hope and Walnut Ridge can't be shrugged off.

There will be a new state champion after the tournament. Defending champion Coleman Dairy of Little Rock was eliminated in its area tournament earlier this year.

First round play sends Walnut Ridge against Pine Bluff this afternoon. Hope meets Fort Smith in a later afternoon game.

Violence in Korea Has Subsided

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Political violence subsided in South Korea today, and leaders of the caretaker government and the victorious Democratic party decided to convene the new National Assembly on schedule.

Local newspapers had said the Assembly's first meeting would be postponed until Aug. 5 because of the mob violence and ballot box burning that erupted after Friday's parliamentary election and delay results from 14 of the nation's 233 election districts.

But Prime Minister Yi Ching and three top leaders of the Democrats agreed at a meeting the Assembly would convene Aug. 3 to elect a new national president and prime minister, in accordance with the National Assembly law requiring the first meeting within 10 days of the election.

The Democrats, who won 174 of the 233 seats in the dominant lower house of the Assembly, by today had taken 29 of the 58 seats in the less powerful upper house, and nine seats were still to be decided.

Quachita Jury Probes Ballots

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—The Quachita County Grand Jury today starts its second day of an investigation into allegations that absentee ballots were cast in the names of dead or absent persons in last Tuesday's Democratic primary election.

The jury heard several witnesses yesterday before it recessed. About 30 witnesses are scheduled to appear.

The votes involved would not change the outcome of any contest.

Labor Aid for Kennedy Is Promised

By G. MILTON KELLY

DAVID J. McDONALD, president of the United Steelworkers Union, told Sen. John F. Kennedy today he is sure organized labor will support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the November election.

McDonald, after a visit with Kennedy at the senator's summer home, told a news conference he believes labor will support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's choice for vice president, as strongly as it supports Kennedy.

He parried questions about reported grumbling by labor union members against Johnson as a running mate for Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for president.

Kennedy, standing beside McDonald on a lawn through the news conference, said he had invited the union leader here to discuss the slump in steel production and its effects on workers as well as on industry.

McDonald said he had urged Kennedy to implement the Full Employment Act, a law passed in 1946 which directs the government to take appropriate steps, particularly in times of adversity to assure full employment.

McDonald said the steel industry is operating at 53 per cent of capacity with prospects that it will not reach more than 70 per cent of capacity in the fall.

He estimated 100,000 of his union members are unemployed and 300,000 are working less than a 40-hour week.

He said the union has about 1,100,000 members.

Kennedy was asked what special action Congress might take at the session opening next Monday to help the steel industry and others for which it is a bellwether.

Kennedy said the enactment of housing legislation and a school construction aid bill would be helpful and that so would easing of interest rates and "light money policy."

Kennedy also met this morning with Bernard L. Boutin, a candidate for governor of New Hampshire.

Kennedy told reporters later "I am going to campaign in the state and I think we are going to carry it."

Collections Dip, State Report Shows

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Revenue Department reported today that Arkansas' first month of tax collections in the new fiscal year showed a drop of $346,689.

This was reflected in a breakdown of July collections.

The 1960-61 fiscal year began July 1.

Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said a short month caused by the Independence Day holidays and other things caused the slump in figures.

"I think the money is in the department and it's just a question of getting it on the books," added Cheney, who returned to the commissioner's post after a month's leave of absence to work in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' election campaign.

Nixon said the President would consider big spending measures as purely political unless they carried with them increased taxes to pay the bill.

He indicated that even if such measures included tax provisions, Eisenhower would veto them unless he regarded them as in the public interest.

U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice-presidential nominee, accompanied Nixon on the trip to Newport.

Cuba Keeps Silent on Mr. Castro

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government kept silent today on who will take over control from Fidel Castro, but the best bet appeared to be his anti-American younger brother, Raul.

Authorities maintained tight-lipped secrecy following Monday's disclosure that the bearded Prime Minister had laid aside his duties after his doctor ordered him to take a complete rest—"both physical and mental."

Informal sources said Castro, 33, had been finally convinced that he must stop all work to hasten recovery from his three-week illness, officially described as a lung infection. Maj. Raul Trillo, one of two army doctors treating the prime minister, announced he was taking a complete rest, "both physical and mental."

(Some Latin American quarters in Washington speculated that the announcement was meant to prepare Cuba for the Prime Minister's indefinite retirement from public life. There have been persistent reports in Havana—denied by sources close to the Cuban government—that Castro underwent a rectal operation and was found to be suffering from cancer.)

Fidel soon after he came to power officially designated his younger brother as his political heir.

Raul, 28, Cuba's defense minister, has just returned from official visits to the Soviet Union, Communist Czechoslovakia and the United Arab Republic.

Before anyone takes over from Castro, the Cabinet presumably will meet under President Osvaldo Dorticos and order the change. So

Russia Claims Capture of a U.S. Spy

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviets today claimed to have captured an American spy, they said, was ordered to ferret out locations of Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles and air defense installations.

The man was identified as V. M. Slavov but the announcement by the National Security Committee did not give his nationality.

It said he was captured in June as he tried to cross the border into Iran.

There was no immediate comment from either State Department or Central Intelligence Agency sources in Washington.

The announcement said Slavov had been given special training in espionage in American intelligence schools in Limburg and Plessen, West Germany.

The security committee said Slavov was to settle down in Leningrad and collect and transmit classified information on important defense and industrial installations in the Soviet Union.

The announcement said another part of Slavov's mission was to obtain Soviet passports, identification cards, party and youth organization cards and the like for future spies headed for the Soviet Union.

FBI Not Checking on 2 U.S. Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI says it is not checking on the whereabouts of two U.S. National Security Agency employees who left for a vacation in the West and apparently went to Mexico instead.

Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, and William J. Martin, 29, began their vacations on June 24 and were due back in mid-July. They have not contacted their families nor the agency since they left.

Authorities said the men, both single, booked plane passage to Mexico City on June 25. A check of Mexico City hotels Monday showed they had registered there but later had left.

The two worked as junior mathematicians at the Ft. Meade, Md., Communications Intelligence Agency.

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A retired businessman, with two diamonds already today, headed back to the Crater of Diamonds looking for more stones.

E. W. Goode found a 4.84 carat diamond Monday morning. A few hours later he turned up a 6.12 carat stone.

Howard Millar, operator of the commercial diamond-hunting venture, estimated the value of the smaller stone at $1,000. He could not estimate the value of the other.

Goode, of Urbana, Ohio, may keep the smaller diamond, but under crater rules must pay a 5 per cent royalty on the second because it is above five carats. Tourists pay a small fee to hunt for diamonds.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being able to return to active life after suffering from head to foot with muscular soreness and pain. Most all joints seemed affected. According to medical diagnosis, I had Rheumatoid Arthritis, Rheumatism and Burialis. For free information write:

A-Sub Heading for the Arctic

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—The nuclear submarine Searadger is bound for the Arctic today to attempt the first East-West crossing beneath the North Pole.

West to East sub-polar voyages have been made by the atomic submarines, Nautilus, Sargo and Skate.

It's a lot different with Nixon and Kennedy.

Both have been in national politics since 1946 and when both were first elected to the House of Representatives, in later elections both landed in the Senate, with Nixon going on to the vice presidency.

It was no wonder Nixon had no real opposition for the presidential nomination. He had been working toward that for years.

1. By playing it smart as vice president. He stuck close to Eisenhower, got himself identified in the public and Republican mind with the President's ideas, attitudes, and policies, thus making himself appear the natural successor.

2. By building up support for himself around the country for years both by his campaigns for the Republican presidential ticket and campaigns to help Republicans running for office in their states.

Kennedy has been aiming at the presidency ever since 1956 when, to the surprise of many, he came out of relative obscurity and almost captured the Democrats' vice presidential nomination.

In the succeeding four years he traveled the country, surrounded himself with shrewd politicians and intellectuals and ran and won in the primaries.

While both parties in their civil rights platform planks were more liberal than ever before, the fact is they had to be. Events inevitably pushed them in that direction, beginning with the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation.

Mrs. James William Allen

The marriage of Miss Virginia Carol Williams and Mr. James William Allen was solemnized July 24 at 4 p. m. in the First Methodist Church in Sheridan. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McCay Williams of Sheridan. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Williams, Sr., of Sheridan, and Mrs. Harvey Marvin Arnold, Sr., of Clarksville, Ark., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen, Sr. of Hope. He is the grandson of Mrs. J. R. Kidd of Texarkana, and the late Mr. Kidd and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen, Sr., of Texarkana.

Rev. Carr De Rocco performed the double-ring ceremony before a background of sunburst baskets of white gladioli and majestic daisies, interspersed with candelabra holding white tapers entwined with southern smilax.

Mr. Robert Smith of Pine Bluff accompanied Mrs. Bob Burnside of Little Rock as she sang "The Song of Ruth" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length wedding gown of silk tulle with a puffed skirt set off by a natural waistline. The sculptured bodice of jeweled Chantilly lace with a portrait neckline had long sleeves tapering over the wrists. Beaded lace applique were scattered over the full skirt with a self fabric rose and sash giving interest to the chapel train. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of illusion and silver candelabra with white tapers. Think Castro to Bow Out Indefinitely

WASHINGTON (AP)—An announcement in Havana that Fidel Castro needs absolute rest was interpreted today in some Latin American quarters here as designed to prepare Cubans for his indefinite disappearance from public life.

This was the interpretation put on the public announcement that the Cuban Prime Minister needs "absolute rest—both physical and mental." Specialists in Cuban affairs said the reference to mental rest amounted to advice not to expect any statements or messages from Castro.

U.S. officials said they had no information from the embassy in Havana concerning Castro's ailment that has not been published in Havana.

In diplomatic and other circles here there has been some skepticism about the earlier official announcement that Castro was suffering from pneumonia. This was based on the theory that doctors now have drugs which instantly knock out pneumonia promptly.

Some Latin Americans arriving here from Cuba said Cubans told them the last time they saw Castro he appeared to be having great discomfort in walking.

There were also rumors of internal hemorrhages and incoherence in speaking.

2 Die, 17 Hurt in Collision

GRANTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A truck returning a group of boys from a swimming party crashed Monday, killing two of them and injuring 17 others.

Killed were Walter Rupp, of Roosevelt, Pa., and Patrick Gine, of Shippensburg, Pa., both 15.

They were among a group from the Hoffman School for Children which had spent the afternoon at a swimming party in nearby Lake Orestown.

Lynn Gaylor, 25, the truck driver, told state police the vehicle ran up an embankment and fell back on the highway.

Money Okay to Start Big Missile Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) announced today the Air Force has released one million dollars for starting work on a Titan guided missile complex in Arkansas.

This is the first money allotted to the 10-million dollar project, which will consist of 18 launching sites for the intercontinental ballistic missile.

The Little Rock Air Force Base will be support base for the underground launchers. The "buried silos" from which Titan missiles can be fired will be constructed at least seven miles apart and at least 18 miles from the air base. About 1,200 personnel will be required to staff the missile complex. The project was announced June 22.

Alford said the money released today is for construction of roads, water wells and utilities.

No details on location of the work were disclosed immediately. The notification to Alford came from the military construction division of the Air Force. Titan missiles were built by Aerojet Corp. near Azusa, Calif. They are 27 feet long, 14 feet in diameter and weigh 12,000 pounds. They carry a nuclear warhead and have a range of more than 6,000 miles. It would be used for strategic bombardment in case of attack.

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Shirley tore down on Communist China today after killing two persons on the Hsikyung Island of Yunnan and one in Kaimosi.

The storm Sunday night destroyed 30 homes and caused heavy crop damage on Yunnan, a small island of 6,000 population.

Teacher Kissed, Graduate Complains

Dear Helen:

I liked this man very much as a teacher. I thought it might be nice to have a father like him. He is married and older than my own father. Just before I was graduated from high school, we seniors had our annual class trip. This man offered my girl friend and me a ride home.

He took my girl friend home first then, as he was driving me home, pulled off to the side of the road and forced me to kiss him. I told him to take me home at once.

I realize I should tell my mother but I can't. I did tell my boy friend. He wanted to beat the teacher up but that would only make matters worse. Please tell me what to do. —J.B.S.

Dear J.B.S.: Unhappy though the experience was, be thankful it went no further. At the risk of sounding preachy, I say: let it be a lesson! You know your mother, I don't. If she is the reasonable rather than emotional type, tell her the incident. If not, forget it. And forget the teacher too. He's sick.

Dear Helen: I am a boy 16 years old. My cousins, ranging from 3 to 14, watch TV cartoons, play with toy cars and other playthings. They tell me I act grown because I will not participate and because I go to church regularly. They even cite the fact that generals play with toy soldiers, guns and tanks on sand-tables in the army. What do you think and what would you do? —Wondering

Dear Wondering: Unhond! Life can be a lot easier if you take it as it comes. I was as serious at 16 as you are now and so missed much of the fun which ordinary ly would have been mine.

Don't be stand-offish. Play an occasional game with your cousins. You might even surprise them and yourself by winning.

Toys in themselves are fascinating. Many grownups, myself included, still play with them, if given the slightest encouragement by young friends. The late Vincent Astor maintained a small train, trucks, cars and engine at his New York estate. When managing his millions got him down, he donned engineer's overalls and caps, hopped aboard the little engine and blissfully chugged from one end of his land to the other.

Recognize your life-r-death approach for what it is: the turbulent, often irrational, process of growing up.

Dear Helen:

Two years ago I had an affair with a man which left me with the idea that I was pregnant. I sought medical advice. Three different doctors gave me a negative reply but I still have symptoms. Could the doctors have been mistaken? Kindly answer through your column. I am too ashamed to reveal my name. —"Too Ashamed."

Dear "Too Ashamed": False pregnancies are not uncommon and sometimes result from a feeling of guilt. Since your condition seems to be more psychological than physiological, ask one of your doctors to recommend someone who can help you.

Dear Helen:

I love the answers you give in your column. You are never shocked to despair, but always have some sound advice without preaching.

Are there any good magazines which would be helpful to young writers? Have you any list of markets for poetry, articles, fillers and stories? Please send your leaflet, "So You Want to Write!" —Mrs. P.S.

Dear Mrs. P.S.: Show me the writer who doesn't purr when praised! I'm no exception. "So You Want to Write" goes to you today. It contains a list of publications helpful to embryo authors, as well as three textbooks on the art of writing. I find myself turning again and again to the chapter "Reading and Writing" in "The Complete Life" by John Erskine. Also might be useful to me are: "The Working Principles of Rhetoric" by John Franklin Gunning, "Modern English Usage" by H.W. Fowler and "The Elements of Style" by William Strunk Jr. and E.B. White. Good luck!

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

TWO/MINUTE MYSTERY THE CASE OF THE RAILROAD CRASH

BY DONALD J. SOBOL

On the night of July 15, the engineer of a westbound local missed a signal and crashed head-on into a high speed express out of Chicago.

The result — one of the bloodiest disasters in railroad history.

"It strikes me odd that all the serious casualties were in the first seven cars of both trains," said Dr. Haledjian, "All except one."

"Jess Fromm, you mean?" asked Inspector Winters. "What makes you question his death?"

"Partly because Fromm's niece asked me to investigate," replied Haledjian.

The inspector went to his files. "Fromm was on his way to a hardware convention with his business partner, Wendell Smith," said the inspector. "Here's Smith's statement."

According to Smith, he and Fromm shared compartment C in the last car of the local. Seconds before the crash, Fromm got up and walked forward to the compartment's toilet.

At the impact, Fromm was standing. He was thrown back and struck his head against the ridge of the card table set between the facing seats.

"Smith now owns the whole bush," said the inspector. "There's your motive. Method? He could have struck Fromm in the back of the neck with the table AFTER the crash. But how are you going to prove it?"

"I should start," replied Haledjian, with the obvious lie in Smith's statement."

The engineer of a westbound local missed a signal and crashed head-on into a high speed express out of Chicago.

WHAT WAS SMITH'S LIE?

Smith had been told by the railroad that he should not mention the crash to anyone. He had been told that if he did, he would be fired. He had been told that if he did, he would be in trouble. He had been told that if he did, he would be in trouble. He had been told that if he did, he would be in trouble.

Orioles Seem to Have Formula for Winning

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Todd Richards' surprising Orioles appear to have hit upon a winning formula which may pay off in the first pennant in Baltimore's brief American League history.

Actually, it's a double-aimed plan—win the close ones and knock off the top team.

The third-place Birds followed the blueprints to the letter Monday night, defeating the front-running Chicago White Sox 2-1.

It was their 26th victory in 38 one-run decisions this year. It also was their ninth triumph over the White Sox in 16 meetings. No club has a better record in close games and no club has made a better showing against Chicago this year.

New York's runner-up Yankees trimmed Chicago's margin to a half game with a 3-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers. Cleveland's fourth-place Indians climbed to within six games of the top with a 3-0 victory over Washington. Kansas City outlasted Boston 10-8 in 10 innings.

There was no action in the National League.

Ron Hansen, a rookie and Gene Woodling, a veteran, collaborated to lead the Orioles to their narrow victory. Hansen opened the seventh with a double and scored the pitch-breaking run on Woodling's pinch single.

Bill Pappas, who pitched hitless ball through the last five innings, was credited with his ninth victory. He has lost eight.

Although his White Sox lost, Manager Al Lopez was heartened by the pitching of Herb Score, who went all the way, giving up only seven hits. Better yet he fanned nine and did not walk a batter.

Wise old Casey Stengel masterminded another victory for the Yankees. In the seventh inning, against Detroit he called upon southpaw Luis Arroyo to protect a 3-2 lead for Ralph Terry. In the eighth, he replaced Hector Lopez in left field with Tony Kubek.

Arroyo hurled three scoreless innings to preserve Terry's fifth triumph. In the ninth, Kubek made a spectacular catch of Al Kaline's bid for a home run with a running, over-the-shoulder stab of the 415-foot drive in front of the bleachers.

Pete Daley drove in four runs against his old Boston mates but it took a scoring double by Bill Tuttle in the tenth inning to win for Kansas City. Daley had a three-run homer and two singles as the Athletics banged 17 hits off five Red Sox pitchers. Tom Borland (0-4) was the loser. The victory went to Mike Kutyna, last of four Kansas City hurlers.

National Loop Title Picture May Clear Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League pennant won't be decided this week but a little unscrambling should take place as all but one of the five top contenders clash head on.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, hottest club in the circuit despite its third-place post, open a four-game series with league-leading Pittsburgh tonight, which conceivably could knock the Pirates out of first place.

Second-place Milwaukee, two games behind the Pirates, meet the fourth-place Cardinals in the first of an important three-game series. The Redbirds, winners of five straight following three losses to Pittsburgh, are only 4 1/2 games off the pace and only a half game behind the Dodgers.

Seemingly in the best position for the present, are the resurging San Francisco Giants. While the first four clubs are concentrating on each other, the fifth-place Giants will have a golden opportunity to reduce the 3 1/2-game gap that separates them from the leader.

Starting with a two-night double-header tonight, the Giants will be in Philadelphia for four games.

Hog, Texas Game Will Be Televised

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bowl game winners Georgia, Syracuse, Washington, Arkansas and Louisiana State are among the 30 major college football teams that will be seen on television this season.

Georgia, 14-0, victor over Mississippi in the Orange Bowl, opens the 21 game TV schedule Sept. 17 against Alabama at Birmingham in a nationally televised contest.

There are nine national TV games and 12 regional telecasts divided evenly among four dates in the schedule announced Sunday by the American Broadcasting Co.

National champion Syracuse, which beat Texas 23-14 in the Cotton Bowl to cap an undefeated season, appears nationally Oct. 1 against Kansas.

Saturday, Oct. 8, Washington, the team that smashed Wisconsin 44-9 in the Rose Bowl, plays Stanford on national TV.

Regional TV audiences will see Arkansas vs. Texas on Oct. 15 and LSU vs. Mississippi on Oct. 29. Arkansas trimmed Georgia Tech 14-7 in the Gator Bowl, and the LSU-Ole Miss game will be a replay of Mississippi's 21-0 Sugar Bowl victory.

Syracuse also will make a regional TV appearance against Army in a game at New York Nov. 5.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn., which controls and approves the football TV plan, permits a maximum of one national and one regional appearance or two regional appearances.

All games are on Saturdays, except the traditional Texas vs. Texas A&M Southwest Conference game on Thanksgiving Day.

Other teams, besides Texas and Syracuse, that will appear both nationally and regionally are Army, Ohio State, Northwestern, Iowa, Navy, Stanford and Michigan State.

Illinois, California and the Air Force Academy each will make two regional appearances.

with the seventh-place Phillies over whom they hold an 11-3 edge. The Giants, badly disorganized following the release of manager Bill Rigney in June, suddenly righted themselves two weeks ago and have won 10 of their last 13 games.

Continental Loop Planners in Meeting

By JOE MOOSHLIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Continental League, armed with all the answers, meets today with expansion committees of the American and National leagues in an effort to get baseball's third major league on its feet.

Bill Shea, founder of the Continental League and Branch Rickey, its president, both feel they can answer the 10-point plan set up by the majors as a means of making the Continental League worthy of major league status. It includes such dictates as obtaining territories; minimum size of ball parks; salary minimums and pension plans for players; scheduled population of cities to receive franchises; and acceptability of owners and officials.

Rickey said "We can answer yes to all points except territorial indemnification."

The Continental League has offered the American Assn. 40 cents for each paid admission in the year in which major league status is granted. This money would go to the league and is four times as much as the 10 cents per admission the league already receives from each club.

"In effect," said Shea, "we're giving them the equivalent of four years' admissions. Once we settle with the league, then we can go to the individual clubs and negotiate with them."

Shea was burning over statements made by Hank Greenberg, vice president of the Chicago White Sox and a member of the American League expansion committee. Greenberg has said the Continental League has failed in most respects to meet the 10-point plan reiterated in his comments Monday.

"I was hoping Greenberg wouldn't make any statements before the start of the meeting," said Shea. "Greenberg doesn't express sound thinking in baseball. Minor league baseball is collapsing and no one has any business asking a million dollars for a franchise that isn't worth a quarter."

JUST A LITTLE SOUR — "ALL RIGHT now, let's take it from the top again. That last note was just a little bit on the sour side."

That could be what "Down-wing," a hero, is saying to trombonist Sp-4 George M. Mutch of the Fort Hood, Texas band as Mutch gets in some practice. "Down-wing" has joined the band permanently but not for his musical talents. He is more valuable as a cricket eater. And thanks to his talent, the band has the only cricket-free barracks in Fort Hood. — NEA

Chapter XXXI
"It's not practical," Artemus told her, "we have no authority to search. No evidence that would get us a search warrant. Only guesses."

"There's a difference between a guess and deduction," she protested.

"Also, I've a job to do. Suppose we barged in. Suppose we went to Bayside's door and demanded Pomfrey Lionel or the right to hunt for him. If we tried to force our way in, he would have the right of any citizen to defend his home. He would be warned. If he has confederates—which is certain—they would be alerted. Evidence would be destroyed. The organization would scatter."

"My son," said Mrs. Roche through tight lips, "is not expendable."

"I think there is a way," he said. "Operating this ring is a first-rate intelligence. If I were in the place of this intelligence, this evil brilliance, I think I know what I should try to do."

"What would you try to do, Mr. Baldwin?" Mrs. Roche asked.

"I would furnish the police, the outraged people, with a kidnaper who would have no part in the counterfeiting ring. I would frame some person and pin the guilt upon him. I would do a conjuring trick, misdirecting attention from myself to some man for whose blood the public could be made to clamor."

"But where," she asked, "could they find such a man?"

"Me," Artemus told her. "They have been convinced that I am a fugitive gangster from Chicago named Anton Spain. I'm a lone wolf who has tried to muscle in a tough character who has been associated with the finding of one body; who has stumbled over another body in his bathroom; who was involved in a shooting affair in which two Los Angeles gang men were wounded last night. They could not have invented a more suitable person to frame."

Artemus was driven to his motel, where he dismissed the cab and went in to the telephone. He called the office of Marvin Leeds, and to the girl who answered he said, "Artemus Baldwin speaking. Tell Leeds it's important."

Leeds came on the wire.

"I've taken over," Artemus said.

"Don't," said Leeds silkily, "get too big for your britches."

"My britches will fit," Artemus said grimly. "So we talk. You and me. The best place is here—and quick."

"You're giving me orders?" demanded Leeds.

"Somebody better give orders the way things are fouled up," Artemus said. "What doughhead pulled this caper?"

There was an instant's silence. Then Leeds spoke indignantly. "Glad you called, Baldwin. I was going to call you. I'll be there in 15 minutes."

In less than a quarter of an hour, Leeds' knuckles upon the door asked for admission.

Artemus opened the door and the lawyer glided in.

Without a word of greeting, Leeds walked to the bathroom door and looked inside.

"Just you and me," Artemus said with a saturnine smile. "What happened got you into this hassle?"

"To what hassle do you refer?" Leeds asked.

"I know the kid," Artemus said.

Mental Case Questioned in Slaying

WHEELING, Ill. (AP)—An 18-year-old former mental patient was questioned today in the slaying of Betsy Benham, 5.

The child's strangled, partly stripped body was found Saturday, concealed beneath a mud and leaves in a shallow trench in a weedy lot close to the Benham home near Wheeling, 35 miles northwest of downtown Chicago.

She had disappeared Friday evening.

The youth, held without charge, was identified by police as Paul F. Jackson of Des Plaines, a few miles south of Wheeling.

Jackson asserted he had been rangers who spotted him Sunday night lurking near a wooded lovers' lane near Des Plaines.

Jackson asserted he had been in St. Luke's Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago at the time of the slaying. Hospital records showed he had been in the hospital from 9:45 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. on Saturday—after the girl's body was found.

Hospital personnel said that Jackson wore a blue shirt and tan trousers, similar to clothing of a mystery man who pointed out the location of the child's body to a searcher early Saturday morning.

The search for other clues was pressed.

Deputies were ordered to interview everyone living within a two-mile radius of the Benham home.

One resident of the area, Steve Glut, whose home is just west of where the girl's body was found, said he saw a blue-shirted youth walk across his property and a nearby cornfield about 7:15 p.m. Friday.

Rock Island Train Kills a Man

POND CREEK, Okla. (AP)—A Rock Island passenger train speeding through here early yesterday struck and killed a 30-year-old Neosho, Mo., man.

City Marshall Byron Chapman said Robert Piercy, the victim, was apparently lying on the tracks when the train passed over his body.

enment, especially of the states possessing the greatest military power, would largely contribute to the success in the consideration of the disarmament problem, as well as of some important political issues and would thereby reduce international tension and improve the entire international situation."

Artemus said, "he's a smart cookie. He's nuts on playing cops and robbers. He's a born snoop. He's got notions, so he snoops. And he gets caught snooping. Then nobody handles him wise. Nobody buys him an ice-cream cone and hands him a line. No. Some jerk loses his head and grabs. And everybody's in a jam, with a kidnapping on their hands. I don't like it."

"This smart kid snoops," Leeds said. "Into what does he snoop?"

"How should I know?" Artemus demanded. "All I know is you're in the soup and somebody's got to ladle you out."

"Somebody named Anton Spain," said Leeds disagreeably. "Don't try to crack any whips. Artemus said sharply. "It don't make friends."

"What does make friends?" Leeds asked.

"In my case," Artemus said, "giving me a place on the team could do it. And not on the bench. In the infield."

"What makes you think I have a team?" Leeds asked.

Artemus sneered. "I think you're on a team." He was watching Leeds' face, but nothing was to be read there. "When you go to bat you don't swing until you look at the third-base coach for signals. You're pretty good, Leeds, but you don't pack the weight to run the team."

The lawyer's eyes glittered. Artemus had struck where it hurt. The man had vanity.

"There's Chicago," said Leeds. "There's a kidnaper boy," Artemus countered. "You play your card and I'll play mine."

"There are always guns," Leeds said coldly.

"Go look in the hospital," Artemus sneered. "The Baffins brought in guns, and the doctors are picking lead out of them."

He paused and crossed eyes with the dapper lawyer. "Let's see you do your gun trick
